DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-18,35-40,47,48,49-62, drawn to printhead adjuster apparatus and method of using, classified in class 435, subclass 287.2.
 - II. Claims 19-34, drawn to printhead adjuster apparatus with two printheads, classified in class 435, subclass 287.2.
 - III. Claim 41, drawn to array, classified in class 435, subclass 287.2.
 - IV. Claim 42-44, drawn to method of detecting, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - V. Claim 45, drawn to method of receiving data, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
 - VI. Claim 46, drawn to kit, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case Group II is drawn to adjuster with only two printhead housings and Group I has at least one printhead housing.

Inventions Groups I & II and III-VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the Groups I & II are drawn to a device which is used to move a printhead whereas the methods of detecting, array and kit are drawn to biopolymers on a substrate.

Inventions III & VI and IV & V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the array may be used in other methods such as hybridization and capture assays.

Inventions III and VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions the array may be combined with a plurality of different reagents such as probes, primers and sequencing reagents into plurality of different methods and not necessarily incorporated into a kit.

Inventions IV and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the method of receiving data may employ different steps such as using computers and be applied to readings from different methods such as sequencing and PCR reactions.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for each Group is not required for the other Group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
